

First dates, family trips, celebrations, traditions, summer nights, first jobs, cruise-ins, parades, Papa Burgers, laughs, carhops, frosty mugs, Coney Dogs, Root Beers and Root Bears.

When you've been around for 100 years, you have plenty of stories to tell.

A&W started as a tiny Root Beer stand in 1919. Our founder, Roy W. Allen set out to serve up some smiles as Lodi, California celebrated the return of World War I veterans. We're proud to say that we've carried on the spirit of that humble little Root Beer stand ever since. As America's first chain of restaurants, we've had no shortage of memorable moments worth celebrating.

But as we look back, our story isn't just about the milestones. It's about the people that we've been able to bring together, the good times we've had all across America, and the memories that have been made.

So this is our story, told by the people who made these 100 years so special.

CHEERS TO THE GOOD TIMES, AND HERE'S TO THE NEXT 100.

The Taste that Built an Empire

Serving Since 1919

For more than a half a century now, Roy Allen and Frank Wright's exclusive natural formula for root beer has been quietly building an empire that stretches from sunrise to sunset and half a world wide.

A&W Root Beer® is made fresh daily and caffeine free. It is made from a delicate blend of 9 roots, herbs, barks, and other natural ingredients. It's no wonder that millions of satisfied customers enjoy A&W draft root beer in A&W® Restaurants around the world.

"My Father would take my siblings and I to A&W for our birthdays and when he came home from overseas. These special memories are the reason why I collect A&W memorabilia to this day. My collection has over 100 A&W pieces dating back close to the beginning."

— Tina Jordan, Stayton, OR

"I started working at the Litchfield A&W/Long John Silvers when I was 16. It was summer to be exact and I remember I was so nervous because they were always busy and it was my first job. But I jumped right in making Floats and shakes for all the customers coming into town from spending the day on Lake Lou Yeager. Every year, we throw Rooty the Bear a birthday party and invite the town in for a day filled with specials."

— Jess Johnson, Litchfield, IL

"WHEN I WAS A KID, I LOVED GOING TO MY DAD'S JOB FOR 2 REASONS, GETTING TO PLAY WITH DANGEROUS TOOLS AND GETTING TO HANG OUT WITH THE LIFE-SIZE PLASTIC ROOTY. I TURNED BOTH INTO A CAREER, #LIFEGOALS."

— David Bacon, A&W Account Manager

"My sister and I always knew it was a special night when my Dad would suggest a family walk. It meant that we'd walk for a short bit, then get a Root Beer Float, and often a hamburger. While there, we would hear stories of his youth and watch the restaurant's mascot, Rooty. Rooty was a llama who frequently spit at passers by, but always seemed friendly. My sister and I had another favorite game. After getting food, Root Beer, or Floats, if we drove we would see who could fake being asleep the best to get carried in while still clutching our mini Root Beer glasses. While the location is long gone, the memories remain and now my wife and I use A&W as a wonderful excuse to treat our daughter."

— Chris Thalacker

EATING THERE SAVED THE DAY

“One time a group of 13 of us went for a hike in Grand Ledge’s Park. Halfway through it started downpouring. Drenched, cold, and starving we decided to grab some food before we all went home. We all piled into the A&W in town and ended up having a great time laughing about the day and how it will be a hilarious story in the future. I feel that eating there saved the day and made it a good memory.”

"As I enter my senior year of college I am reflecting on the great times I had serving my favorite customers Root Beer Floats and running around on cruise in nights. The laughs, the smiles, the tears and the memories I have gotten to share for eight years with all the A&W regular customers will always be the best memories. A&W has been such big part of my life and will always taste like home."

“WHEN THE MANAGER MARRIES THE CARHOP, THE WHOLE CREW COMES!”

— Samantha Cavanaugh, Berkley, MI

“When I graduated from high school in 1964, I needed a summer job to make money for college. I was hired to work the counter at the A&W stand in Saratoga Springs, New York. For five summers I took orders brought up by the carhops and poured Root Beer. The money I earned paid my room and board, bought my books, and gave me funds for incidentals. For 50 years, I have said that A&W put me through college. I loved my experience all through those five years.”

— Richard Hibbert

“My first job was at A&W in Pella, Iowa where I worked from 1985 -1988. I worked every job they had there during that time. I loved my job, I ended up marrying one of the other employees. We both got different jobs and moved on to bigger and better things. But will never forget all the great memories while working there!”

— Mary Jo Moore, Knoxville, IA

“I have worked at the A&W in Iola, Kansas since I was 14. I am now 56. At first it was just a job, but that job turned into a journey that is lasting a lifetime. Some of my fondest memories are about the people that I have met. Witnessing where we started and where we are today and being a part of that, and continuing to be blessed at A&W.”

— Jim Gribble, Iola, KS

“I worked at A&W in Wellington, Kansas back in 1964 -1966. Real glass mugs kept cold poured just like beer. The best Onion Rings made right there. All made to order! Best job ever with carhops taking your order and delivering to the car! Still the best Root Beer ever.”

— Suann Moore, Phoenix, AZ

“I started working at A&W my sophomore year in high school. I worked there the next three years after that, becoming Assistant Manager my senior year. I have wonderful memories of the place and, most of all, the people who worked there. I brought my stereo there and we would rock out while flipping Burgers. It was a drive up only so we didn't bother our customers. Great times.”

— Jess Johnson, Litchfield, IL

“WORKING AS A CARHOP WAS MY VERY FIRST JOB AT THE AGE OF 15 BACK IN THE EARLY 70S. IT DEFINITELY BROUGHT ME OUT OF BEING SHY!”

— Kathy Phillips

“I started out as a soda jerk, worked my way to carhop, then bun dresser, and cook. Since we were located two miles from a military training base, Fort Leonard Wood, I was able to meet people who had been all over the world. I have a lot of fond memories from there. We stayed open year-round. It would amaze me how many people would order ice cream cones in the freezing cold of winter.”

— Janice Howell

“During the mid-1960s my sister, Shirley (Cannon) Campbell, and I worked for several years at the A&W in Loveland, Colorado. We almost always had a lot of fun at work and really enjoyed working alongside Paul, the owner. He was a great boss. One day, he took over my shift for me after a lady rolled down her window and dumped eight large mugs of Root Beer all over me. I ran home and changed my clothes and shoes. When I returned, Paul handed me all of the tips he had earned while I was away! All of the employees were allowed to drink all of the Root Beer they wanted for free while on shift. Paul knew that I LOVED A&W's orange soda so he let me choose my drink. Last summer I attended my 50th class reunion. I ran into a couple of classmates that also worked as carhops with me. It was fun to reminisce about old times, the friends we made and where some of our customers are today!”

NICKEL ROOT BEER DAY

"As a kid, back in the 1970s, Tuesdays were always Nickel Root Beer Day at our local A&W. My friends and I would hop on our bikes with pockets full of change and make the one mile ride. It was usually a hot summer day. Part of the route we took was a shortcut through the woods following a narrow dirt path. It wasn't the easiest of rides but it was the fastest way to that frosty mug of heaven. We drank mug after mug until we couldn't drink another. We would lay sprawled out on the grass before making the journey back home. It's a piece of my childhood summer burned in my memory and it was the most fun."

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES, A&W.

"I remember my first love and I would go there, but one weekend he called me saying that he couldn't make our date night. Later that night, at around 8pm, one of my aunts and I went to A&W and guess what...he pulled in across from our car face to face. He didn't see me at first. He was on another date with someone else! My Aunt honked the horn and we waved. He saw me and turned into a ghost!

We laughed so hard. Next day, he tried to explain. I can't believe I still remember this. Thanks for the memories, A&W."

“In the very early 80s, my brother worked as Rooty Bear at the A&W in Dubuque, Iowa. Every time we went there (I was four years old), I thought that my brother was inside that beautiful costume and I felt so cool that I knew Rooty. Of course, it wasn’t always him in that costume, but being that young, that’s what I believed.”

"I go to Friday Fish at my A&W in La Crosse. My two waitresses know my order by heart, and always have my two extra pieces ready for me when it comes time. It was just like another date for them, they loved their authentic Root Beer, and the smiles on their faces could bring joy to anyone. My parents now join me for A&W as much as they can, and I do believe I will forever be a 'regular.' Thank you A&W."

"Our Annual A&W Trip: Growing up in the 1950s and 60s, in a large family, we had the honor of going out to eat once a year to a restaurant—our local A&W located in Calumet, Michigan. Our parents and kids would pile into the covered, red pickup truck. Parents and littlest children sat in the front and the rest of us on bench seats in the box. We were so excited to be there. The fabulous smell of the Burgers, Fries and other goodies came wafting through the windows. Our mouths watered and our bellies rumbled, as we awaited the first sip of the ice cold A&W Root Beer and the delectable Cheeseburger and shared Fries. Tummys full, spirits elated, our family had a perfect evening."

— Mark Hyrkas

HAPPINESS IS... ROOT BEER.

"At the age of 25 I purchased the Nisswa A&W and I am now in my fourth year of owning my own A&W franchise! It truly is a dream come true! I can't imagine doing anything else, this is my dream career. I was drawn to A&W by the history of the brand and the impact it has had on my small hometown. A&W has become a tradition for so many families and tourists we have in our beautiful Lakes Area in Central Minnesota.

My favorite A&W item without a doubt is an A&W Root Beer Float, in a frosty mug, and a Bacon Cheeseburger (of course adding Papa Sauce!). I love sweet and salty and the combination of the best Burger and best Root Beer Float is a match made in heaven. Favorite days at the Restaurant are for sure Nisswa's Freedom Day celebration; the town is packed from morning until late at night! We do an All-American Float in the parade and hand out ice cream cone tickets to the parade-goers! Another favorite would have to be our Free Float Day on August 6th, I love that we support our veterans.

We are a brand founded on that principle, a day to give back and give free Floats, heck yes! We give away several hundred free Floats and raise a lot of money for our veterans. I have a lot of family and friends in the military, including my husband Matt, who is a Marine, and supporting our troops is very close to my heart. We also offer a military discount for veterans and their families all season long. They've given so much and we need to do what we can to help. We've had a lot of fun events throughout my years as owner; we sponsor our local turtle races every Wednesday and give free Floats to the winners of the races. In the spring we give all the kids, teachers, and staff at Nisswa Elementary free Root Beer Floats, as an end of the school year treat. It's fun to see over 300 kids' reaction to a Float all at once."

— Emma Krueger, Owner at Nisswa A&W

"A&W was finally established in our little town. It was an exciting thing to see it built as a little girl in the 70s. Best of all, my Dad was an electrician and installed all of the electricity for the restaurant. Before A&W opened, our family was invited to go there and be the guinea pigs for the cooks and servers. What a wonderful night! We got to eat whatever we wanted and drink all the Root Beer we could handle. The cooks kept cooking and the servers kept serving. After 35 years, I still remember and will never forget that magical night being the first customers at our A&W."

"The A&W on University Avenue was always a great spot for dinner if I ever invited any of the friends I knew in fourth and fifth grade to a sleepover. Every time we went, we'd fill our mugs to the brim with Root Beer and even play a song or two on the jukebox. I always thought that A&W had the best Root Beer, Burgers, and Fries I ever tasted. If I could go back to that A&W with my buddies again, I would not think twice before signing up!"

“It was a treat to eat Cheeseburgers and Fries and the best part of our meal was getting my Root Beer in a chilled mug. I loved being able to order from a stall and eat in the car, and when we finished eating we just put everything back on the tray that was clipped to my Mom’s window and pushed a button for them to pick it up. This was the best part of my A&W Root Beer days.”

— Sharon Flax

"Tuesdays were Coney Dog Days. Dogs were 10 cents and mugs of the best ever Root Beer were also 10 cents. She loved it, for it was an inexpensive dinner and us kids loved it. I'm glad to hear that you brought back the old recipe for your Root Beer. Still to this day, I have to stop by and get a couple of Coney Dogs and Root Beer just to bring back great memories of my childhood."

"I was about 9 or 10 years old and I remember my Mom took me to what I thought was a fancy restaurant. I remember eating a Cheeseburger and getting an A&W Root Beer Float. It was our special time, just me and my mom. I thought that my A&W Root Beer Float would last forever. I remember it like it was yesterday. You guys put the fancy restaurants to shame! One of my best childhood memories!"

It
at Hot Shoppes!

We're stepping back into that grand old year of 1927...when Jolson sang the first talkie, and the Babe slammed his 60th...when Dempsey and Tunney slugged it out and Lindbergh landed in Paris...1927, when Clara Bow was It, Valentino was the shick, and our boss, J. Willard Marriott, started the very first Hot Shoppe Restaurant at 14th and Park Road, N.W. In those good old days his A & W creamy root beer was the cat's meow and a Washington favorite! And now, happy days are here again! We can't bring back the

Charleston, the Jazz Age, or flappers, Phaetons, and racoon coats. We wish we could. But we can, and did, bring back that great old favorite, A & W root beer! To celebrate our 45th year. It flows again at Hot Shoppes.

So come on over and celebrate our 45th anniversary with us! Quaff a 14 ounce frosted mug of A & W root beer. You may never see 1927 again, but you sure can taste it...at Hot Shoppes!

“Very fond childhood memories of the family piling into the car on a hot summer evening to go to the A&W Drive-In for a nice refreshing Root Beer Float or a nice cold Root Beer cooler. It was fun for this little guy pressing the call button and having Mom or Dad place that order. That carhop was a welcoming sight as she brought that frosty refreshment. Oh man, was that some good food and fun memories.”

“My favorite memory of A&W was a few years back on my last summer vacation trip before starting my freshman year of college away from my family. We were in Ocean City, Maryland eating at the A&W on the rooftop when the Friday night fireworks started. It was just a perfect ending to a day on the beach.

Watching the fireworks on the rooftop over the ocean, drinking Root Beer Floats, and eating Fries and Onion Rings. Just perfect.”

"It was the summer of 1968 when I landed my first job as a carhop at the most popular place in town, A&W! We were right across from the popular Lincoln Park in Dartmouth, Massachusetts. The place was always packed, and the tips were great.

I met Alan, my future husband at A&W. He proposed to me at the restaurant! We had the best time. Even though it has been 50 years, I still have fond memories of the good ol' days and that first job! Thanks for everything A&W!"

— Paulette Jones

“My first memory of A&W was having my first Root Beer Float. I remember not really knowing what it was, but the sound of Root Beer, in a frosted mug, with vanilla ice cream in it, was mind-blowing. I didn’t know whether to use the spoon or the straw!”

— Brian Rainwater

“My father proposed to my mother at the stand in Keokuk, Iowa. They were married for 50 years.”

— Lynn Allen

“Once a month my brothers and I got a quarter to spend any way we wanted. My, how I looked forward to that mug of Root Beer each month. That A&W is no longer there but I will always cherish those memories.”

— Cindy

“It was an occasion that I would look forward to, and watching a good movie that night. A&W was a good place to eat then, it is today, and now we take our kids there. Some things don’t change.”

— Lori Odijk

“My husband used to pull our two girls down to the local A&W in their little red wagon. He would park the wagon in one of the drive-in bays and order Root Beer for the kids. The cute little kids drinks would be delivered on the traditional tray and hooked onto the side of the wagon.”

— Cheryl Baer

“Our family would take a fishing trip each year to Iron River, WI. Our daily tradition was after a long day of fishing, swimming and adventure we would drive into town to the A&W for a glass jug of your amazing Root Beer and, of course, ice cream cones. Yum! It was magical, and it still is with my own family now. A&W is like no other, truly a taste to remember!”

— Daryl Ratliff

“During the summer of 1962, I remember the hot summer nights. Mom and Dad would load my two brothers and I up in the car while we were dressed in our pajamas. We would drive over to the nearest A&W Root Beer Stand in Appleton, Wisconsin for a tasty cold mug of A&W Root Beer served to us on a tray attached to the car window.”

— Rene Heimann, Appleton, WI

“We had a nephew that was so crazy about A&W that every time we went somewhere and he saw one we would have to stop at it. We started calling it Alice and Walters so he wouldn’t know what we were talking about. It was a family joke for quite a few years.”

— Sheila Strand, Columbus, NE

“I told myself as a kid then, I wanted to work for A&W when I got older so I could bring the trays of food out and wear those metal money changers.”

— Felicia Rocha
